

Mensola- Segreto

>Motivation: The main factor as a starting point of this shelf is the need to prescind a proper space to colocate personal and auxilliary objects. Advantaging the spaces that commonly have a single function.

>General concept: Every person get fractions of their day-a-day life that they would like to keep and at the same time to have them as near as posible, like a secret, which is something hidden and separated from people's aknowledge except for those that share the same information.

>Design features: Segreto is a shelf that was planificated with two main elements: surface and container, that are assembled to a telescopic metal rail, which allows the object`s opening and closure on a simple, safe and intuitive way; the same happens with the installation and disposure of "Segreto". This features are reflected on the esthetics that this design projects acording to the environment where its on.

>Material descriptions: This shelf is made by bended wood of 15mm thick and NCC (Numeric Control Cutting) that ensures the precise assembly between every piece and the finish can be any of Porada's product finiture.
